Poll Tax Payment Important

The right to vote for a candidate or candidates aspiring for public office is one of the greatest privileges accorded an American citizen under our constitution.

Today we are spending time, money and the lives of our boys trying to instill the spirit of democracy and the right of the ballot into the minds of the people of the world. This is wasted time and effort, if we at home fail to exercise this most precious element of free government.

Many do not avail themselves of the opportunity afforded a citizen to vote for the man or woman of his or her choice to hold public office in his or her City, County, State or Country. Compare our position with that of the citizens of the countries behind the Iron Curtain. Would you swap positions? Certainly not. Yet, we are prone to neglect the most precious of all our freedom—The Ballot. Statistics show that a great percentage of people never vote.

Under our state constitution, several requirements must be met by an elector. He must be registered in the county in which he lives and in order to be a qualified elector in the municipality, he must be registered in the County and the municipality. Have you re-registered in the County since the call of the new registration has been in effect? We suggest that you check into your registration status and see that you are in a position to vote in the elections this year. Next and most important, is the payment of your poll tax. The constitution requires the payment of two poll taxes in order to be qualified to vote. However under the Corrupt Practices Act, which governs primary elections, a person must have poll taxes for two consecutive years, and the tax must be paid in the year in which they are due.

Poll tax exemptions are granted to all persons who attained the age of 21 years after January 1, of the year in which the poll tax is assessable, and the same applies to the person who reaches the age of 60 prior to January 1, of that year. The exemption for the 21 year old is for one year only and the exemption for the 60 year old is continuous. Both have to have certificates of exemption from the circuit clerk.

The time for the payment of the poll tax is now. Have you paid yours? If you have not, get down to the Sheriff's office and take care of it. The last day for the poll tax payment is February 1st, and of course, many will put it off to the last minute, and some may be shut off because of the crowd. You do not want to be one of these and you are the one to decide whether you will be or not. Take care of this important matter right now, and then step right across the hall to the Clerk's office and check your registration. Just a matter of minutes will take care of the most important phase of our American Way of Life, and it's a perfect way to carry the fight against the forces of Communism, and then, too, you will be all prepared to vote for the candidates of your choice in the primary elections this coming August.

TV Throws a Block in Marriage Of Young Trombonist, Harpist

By BILLY ROSE

A couple of years ago one of the staff musicians at NBC—a trombonist I'm going to call Charlie Michaels—decided he was finally in a position to realize his two big ambitions: one, to marry the swing harpist he had been keeping company with, and two, to buy a house and a piece of land in New Jersey.

For the first year everything was peaches and grade-A for the Time Square tots—there was a garden to putter around in, house to do over, and neighbors to get acquainted with. Charlie got quite a kick out of telling the suburbanites what an artist his wife had been, and showing

But last January, when TV started using a lot of live music, their marriage ran into its first snag. Charlie, who had been doing an afternoon stint on radio, was shifted to one of the TV motor car programs, and a few weeks later was assigned to two other video spots. These included a certain amount of late rehearsals, which meant that several nights a week, instead of catching the 8:15, the trombone player didn't arrive home until after midnight—that is, when he managed to get home at all.

HIS CITY-BRED spouse, of course, didn't take kindly to this new routine—the country without a fella around the house wasn't much fun—and when it became clear that Charlie was going to be spending more and more of his evenings at the studio, she suggested selling the house and moving back to town.

"I'd hate to give this place up," said the trombonist. "I get a big kick out of it, even if it's only week ends. As for an apartment, they're pretty tough to find right now but I'll see what I can do."

For the next couple of weeks Charlie answered ads and talked to real estate agents but without any luck—either the rent was more than he could afford to pay, or it involved plunking down a couple of thousand dollars for a few sticks of furniture.

Billy Rose

When he told his wife what the situation was, she said, "I know it isn't easy but you've got to do something. I just can't take it out here any more."

ONE EVENING not long ago, while grabbing a sandwich during a rehearsal break, Charlie picked up a paper and an item caught his attention: A young woman had committed suicide by throwing herself out of the window of a midtown apartment house.

On the spur of mood and moment, the musician hopped a taxi and went around to the address mentioned. "I understand you've got a vacancy," he said to the superintendant, "and it's worth a couple of hundred to me if I can have first crack at it."

The super took him up in the elevator and showed him the apartment—four cheerfully-furnished rooms.

"It's hard to believe anyone with such a lay-out would jump out the window," Charlie said, joking. "Did the woman live here alone?"

"Just between us," said the superintendant, "I think some guy was paying the bills. He leased the place in her name about two months ago and at first used to show up pretty regularly. Lately he hasn't been around, and I guess that explains why she took the dive."

"Was she as good looking as the papers said?"

"She was quite a looker," said the super. "There's a picture of her on the bureau."

Charlie went over and examined it.

It was a photograph of a girl seated at a harp with a big Spanish comb in her hair.

March of Dimes Drive Gets Underway; Plan Many Benefits To Raise Funds

E. A. Lang who was appointed chairman of the March of Dimes Campaign in Pass Christian, attended the breakfast at the Town House in Gulfport Monday morning where the local drive was officially started.

Mr. Lang has announced that since the opening of the drive committees have been named and plans made to help raise funds in Pass Christian towards the goal set for West Harrison County of $10,000.

"Solicitations will be mailed out," said Mr. Lang, "iron lung boxes will be distributed to the various business concerns for deposits, and many civic clubs and townspeople have offered their cooperation and assistance in an effort to raise our share of the goal."

A basketball game has been scheduled between the two local teams, Pass Christian High School and St. Joseph's Catholic school, and the game will be played in the Pass High gymnasium with the proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

The Women's Civic League plans to hold a game night at the Miramar Hotel January 25 to raise funds to donate towards the drive.

Plans have also been made by Miss Naomi Saucier, principal of the grammar grades at the public school, for her class to present a play at the school with the proceeds going to the campaign.

In opening the drive officially, Bob Hardy, chairman, gave a summary of the needs of West Harrison County on which the quota of $10,000 is based. He said that this chapter has handled 20 cases of polio during 1950. The active serious cases are placed in one of the two hospitals in Vicksburg, Mississippi, and the hospital charges alone are approximately $10 per day per person besides medicine, and doctor's fees, averaging about $450 per month. Usually a case is hospitalized at least three months and then there follows the expense after discharge of braces and other needed corrective.

"We have four cases now," said Mr. Hardy, "which have already cost us over $2500; and they will probably cost $4000 before they are released from the hospital. If we have three or four more cases between now and next January, 1952, you will have to provide seven or eight thousand dollars to care for them."

Yes, the cost is high but the important factor is that the patient is cured. With each one taking part and contributing whatever he possibly can, the goal can be reached and our loved ones can be made safe by the virtual control of the dreaded polio through the research and treatment made possible by "The March of Dimes."

YOU are the March of Dimes—give generously.

LOGTOWN NEWS

By Jay Metz

The Logtown P.T.A. held their January meeting in the school house last Tuesday evening. The main business of the evening was a discussion on the landscaping of the school grounds. Following an open discussion at which excellent suggestions were offered by many of those present, it was agreed that the County agent would be invited to inspect the school grounds and to lay out a landscaping plan. Upon completion of this survey, the P.T.A. will initiate a definite planting program based upon the results of the survey. It is hoped that sufficient community spirit can be generated to provide one or more "community planting" days.

Mrs. John E. Metzler, presiding officer, reported on the current progress toward acquisition of playground equipment. She also stated that there would be no meeting during the month of February, and that the last meeting of the school year would be held in March. All present were asked to consider a slate of officers for the coming school year since selection of new officers will be made at the March meeting.

At the conclusion of the business, cookies and coffee were served in the cafeteria.

The Logtown School basketball teams engaged the Leetown teams last Friday evening at the Lake shore gym and ended up on the short end of the score in both games. The girls' team opened the night's activities by bowing to the Leetown girls by a 16 to 8 count. Superior height and close guarding spelled the difference.

The boys' game was a thriller throughout, with neither team having more than a two point margin at any stage of the game. At half time the score was tied at 13 each. The Leetown team moved ahead 20 to 19 with about a minute to play, and were able to freeze the ball until time ran out. Both teams played exceptionally fine ball but were hampered throughout the game by inexperienced officials.

Mrs. Herbert Rody and daughters Sylvia and Diane departed Monday for their home in Tampa, Florida, following a month's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marshall. Miss Gertrude Casanova accompanied Mrs. Rody on her return trip.

Houseguests of Mrs. David R. Weston this week are Miss Elizabeth Howry of Jamestown, Rhode Island, and Miss Mary Howry of Washington, D. C.

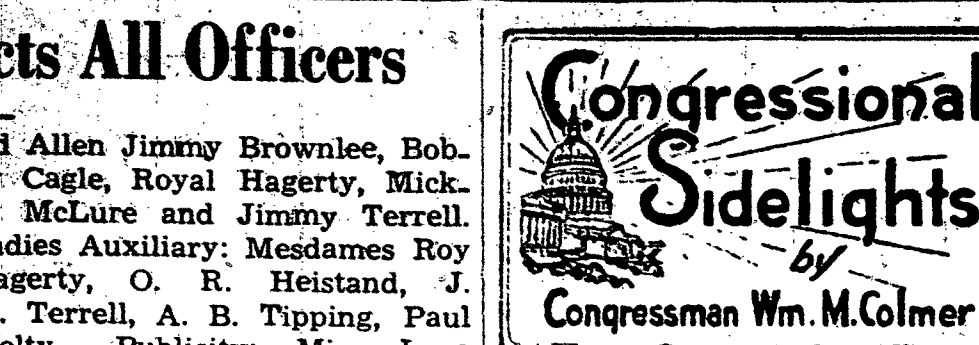

The January meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service was held in the home of Mrs. David Weston last Friday afternoon. A social hour was enjoyed following the meeting.

Miss Lucia Mettler spent Sunday at the home of her parents.

In connection with the March of Dimes Drive in Pass Christian the members of the Civic League voted to hold a game night at the Miramar Hotel to raise funds for this worthy cause. There will be Canasta, Bridge and Bingo played at the party which will be held January 25. Everyone is urged to attend.

Mrs. Myrtle McDermott has accepted a position in the Tax Collecting department of the Sheriff's Office in the Harrison County courthouse in Gulfport.

Hugh Fitzpatrick, 501 East Second street, entered the Veterans Facilities hospital in Biloxi Monday, for treatment.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

On January 8th President Truman delivered his State of the Union message to a joint meeting of the House and Senate in the newly decorated House Chamber. As usual, there was a great deal of speculation as to what policies the President would outline for the ensuing two years of the 82nd Congress. There were those who adhered to the view that the President would stubbornly cling to his old Progressive measures and again recommend the enactment of a program of civil rights, public housing and free medical services and allied proposals. Again, there were those of us who hoped that in this great crisis of the Republic, when the question of survival of our Democratic institutions was the real issue, the President would become realistic and advocate only those measures which would contribute to our strength in the fight against Communism.

It was, therefore, with considerable satisfaction that the Congress listened in silence to the President as he outlined a realistic program. For the first time in the past several years of his incumbency, the President failed to mention the F. E. P. C. or even chastise the Taft-Hartley Act.

While the Left-Wing of the country got little satisfaction out of the President's address, we believe that the country as a whole received the message in pretty much the same attitude as the Congress did. The reaction was good. In this great crisis the President could not have appropriately done otherwise. In fact, the only ground that patriotic Southern Democrats, Northern Democrats and Republicans could get together on in these trying days is a program of national defense. As we told the House in September of last year, "The more abundant life theory must yield to the realistic danger of survival of the Republic."

CHINA VERSUS AMERICA
It is interesting to note that regardless of the fact that the United Nations supposedly opposing Northern Koreans in the Korean War, the break-down of the personnel fighting that war shows that it is largely an American-Chinese War. The break-down is as follows:

Chinese 4th Army	171,000
Chinese 3rd Army	106,000
North Koreans	167,000

HOW TO MAKE NATURE ROLL UP HER SLEEVES

AND GO TO WORK!

NATURE isn't lazy, but she sometimes needs a little help and encouragement in her urge to replace old trees with new.

An old forest is very largely a static forest... one which makes little use of the growth potential in the land. The trees are mature, crowded, and lose almost as much wood through decay and disease as they grow.

When we clear the mature units from such a woods, struggling young trees get their chance for more sunlight and soil food. They usually make the most of it and the land goes to work producing new wood at a greatly accelerated rate.

This is the forest cycle which can give us plenty of new wood for tomorrow. This is the way in which we manage our timber lands.

House of David To Play Thursday, Jan. 25, At Bay High

Those Basketball Maniacs, loaded with more tricks are back again, and the largest crowd of the season is expected to be on hand, when the Famous House of David Basketball Team known as the Worlds Most Colorful Basketball Club takes on New-mand Cobb, at Bay High gym, Thursday night, January 25, in a game that will be checked full of basketball mirth, madness, ability, and humor that should please everyone, young and old.

These bearded boys will walk on the floor headed by their Giant Center, "Moose" Shannon, 6 foot 7 inch, 235 pounder, who dunks the ball down into the basket. More giants will follow the "Moose" in this order: "Toss" Heavner, veteran guard, who controls the defensive backboard for the Davids, wears a size 14 shoe, and weighs only 215. Next comes Bud Scott a 10 year veteran with the Bearded Davids. Eud tips the scales at 190 pounds and stands 6 ft. 4 inches in the zone and plays forward. Then comes lanky 6 ft. 3 inches "Deak" Ehorn, another of the star aggregation that forms the Davids shooting guards and defensive strength. Next in line comes clever aggressive Bobby Roth, basketball's fastest breaking forward, and the Davids floor manager. The local team will have their hands full in holding these giants in check but are conceding no points as they have been pointing for this game with the nationally known Davids.

The House of David team with their beards blowing in the breeze and their eyes cocked or the basket will be out to add another win to their long list as they are known throughout basketball as the team that plays more games per season and travels more miles than any other team in the world.

Just because the House of David has long beards does not mean that they are old men as underneath you will find a group of young fellows who have made their name in the game of basketball in college and the pro field, and from all outward appearances they will be together on this team for at least the next three years as each one individually feels he can play that long in fast competition.

For 25 years the House of David team has been touring the North American continent playing in the United States, Canada and Mexico, asking no quarters and certainly giving none to any team. It is not uncommon for these bearded lads to play 200 games each season and their number one aim is to entertain from the beginning to the end.

With the combined height of the hairsute cagers it will be interesting to see the system they use in scoring as word has leaked out that they are good long-shots from out on the floor as well as being a club that scores underneath the hoop.

All in all this game shapes up as the banner game and will be a battle on the hardwood floors between two clubs, both of which will be trying desperately to win and of course the bearded boys will add comedy, color and mayhem to the affair which will give the referee one of his hardest nights work, as when the Davids pull their famous hidden ball trick the referee will be just as bewildered as will the opposing players and the fans.

A good preliminary game has been lined up to open the nights menu and it promises to be an entertaining game to get the fans on edge for the three ring circus of basketball that is to be the main attraction.

Sports editors throughout the nation vouch for their entertaining ways and ability to make baskets.

WAVELAND NEWS

By Mrs. H. K. Holderith

Miss Sue Ross Wright, wearing a gown of candlelight velvet, was married to Norvin L. Pellerin, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Walsdorf of Waveland, at the First Presbyterian Church in New Orleans. Rev. D. H. Edgington solemnized the nuptials.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Luther Wright, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a bertha of corded velvet in lattice effect covering her shoulders and topped the long, fitted sleeves. Embroidered on the bertha in delicate design were seed pearls.

A straight panel extended from neckline to hem in the front. Edging this panel was similar lattice cording trimmed in seed pearls. The circular skirt spread into a cathedral train.

A tiara of pearls held her fin-ger tip veil of candlelight illusion. She carried a pure white orchid, surrounded by scatter orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Vera Louise Wright, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Jean Youngblood was bridesmaid. Their gowns were of sapphire velvet, fashioned with off-shoulder bodice, long snug sleeves and full, circular skirt. Their bouquets were decorated with camellias, and in their hair they wore one matching camellia bloom.

Mr. Pellerin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Antoine Pellerin had as his best man, Jacob Fred Muller. Charles Bourgeois was groomsmen; and J. Luther Wright Jr., brother of the bride and David Thibaut were ushers.

At the reception which followed, Mrs. Wright, assisted by Mrs. Pellerin received the guests in a gown of gray crepe. She wore a corsage of violets and sweetheart roses. Mrs. Pellerin was wearing copper satin trimmed with black Chantilly lace with a bronze orchid corsage.

Also receiving was the groom, mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Walsdorf. Her gown was of wisteria-colored chiffon and her corsage was of yellow roses.

Later in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip to Havana and the Bahamas. The bride wore a bolero suit of gray wool with white pique trim. Her accessories were white and navy blue.

TIDE OF TOYS ENDS SATURDAY

Jackson, January 16.—The Mississippi-wide campaign for the second annual "Tide of Toys," American Legion sponsored gift shipments for children of Europe, will end this Saturday, January 20, according to Legion state commander Ralph M. Godwin.

The deadline, Commander Godwin explained, was occasioned by the fact that ocean shipping made available for the giant overseas goodwill program would "... carry the last loads of toys shortly after the weekend expiration date."

Seeking the shipment of 10 million toys to the children of war-distressed Europe outside the Soviet dominated countries the Legion this year undertook its most ambitious project. Bing Crosby, noted screen and radio star, has been serving as honorary chairman of the movement.

Begun on December 26, the Mississippi department of the Legion issued an appeal to the public to send one toy per person to European children "... who have known only war, disaster, and now, fear of communist enslavement."

The "Junior Marshall Plan" last year dispatched and distributed more than three million toys, all sent by American boys and girls.

American Legion posts throughout the state are conducting local collection campaigns with plans for making shipments by the weekend. Mississippi toys will be sent to the port of Philadelphia, Pa., for ocean transport to Europe.

Overseas distribution will be made by CARE, the famous non-profit food and relief organization, in the names of the donors.

Godwin urged the public at large to respond to the appeal by giving a single toy to any member of an American Legion post. No electrically operated or military-type toys should be sent.

Throughout the nation, about fifty organizations have given the Legion active assistance in carrying through the campaign.

That on the 8th day of January, 1951, the Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis, passed the following Resolution to-wit:

"WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to the Commission Council signed by twenty-four (24) petitioners, who are resident adjoining property owners to North Second Street in the City of Bay St. Louis, requesting the Commission Council to change the name of North Second Street from Ulman Avenue North to North Beach Boulevard to the name of Harbor Road, and,

WHEREAS, the changing of said name of said Second Street is of interest to all adjoining property owners and to the Public; it is therefore,

RESOLVED that the Commission Council set a date for the hearing of objections to said petition before final action is taken in the matter and that notice be given to the Public by publication of the time, date and place of said hearing in a newspaper legally qualified in Hancock County, Mississippi for three (3) consecutive weeks prior to the hearing of said petition. Be it further Resolved that this Commission Council will hear any and all objections to said petition at the City Hall in the City of Bay St. Louis, on the 5th day of February, 1951.

Ordered and Passed at a regular meeting of the City Council on this the 8th day of January, 1951."

Notice is hereby given to the Public that on the 5th day of February, 1951, the Commission Council will meet at the City Hall in the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, at 10 o'clock A. M. to hear objections to the petition filed with said Council to change the name of North Second Street from Ulman Avenue North to North Beach Boulevard to the name of Harbor Road.

S-Sgt P. J. Benvenuti Marine Recruiter

Gulfport, Miss.—Marine Staff Sergeant Peter J. Benvenuti, Marine Corps Recruiter for the Gulfport-Bay-St. Louis area will visit Bay St. Louis on Tuesdays and establish a recruiting office at the Hancock County Court House.

The Marine Corps is accepting young men between 17 and 28 years of age, who are physically qualified and can pass the educational test. Young men interested in details about the Leatherneck Corps are invited to drop into the recruiting office and consult Sergeant Benvenuti.

New directives from Washington greatly modify the physical standards for enlistment in the Corps. The color perception test has been waived and the dental standards have been lowered. Married men with dependents may enlist in the Marine Corps Reserve and be ordered to immediate active duty. Former Marines in the grades of sergeant and below may enlist in the grade held upon discharge.

The enlistments in the Marine Corps are for three and four years and reserve enlistment for as long as the Marine Corps reserve is on active duty. Men enlisting now are eligible for quick promotion and may travel the world over and still be able to continue their education. The Marine Corps is prepared to give young men the background they need for their chosen life's work, be it the Marine Corps or some civilian job.

Men accepted for enlistment here will be sent to Jackson and later transferred to the Marine Recruit Depot, Paris Island, South Carolina, for ten weeks of "boot" training. Upon completion of training 90 per cent of the men are promoted to Private First Class. Upon return from leave (if so granted) they will be assigned to one of the many posts and stations of the Marine Corps all over the globe.

Married men with dependents may enlist in the Marine Corps Reserve and be ordered to immediate active duty. Former Marines in the grades of sergeant and below may enlist in the grade held upon discharge.

Roger Peyton, former Bay resident and student at Bay High, was among the New Orleans boys to compete in the 6 1/2 mile race on Jackson Day in New Orleans.

Roger, who entered the race as a representative of the YMCA, received a trophy from the Y. M. C. A.; he was the only entry from that organization to complete the run in many years. Roger's time was 53 minutes and 45 seconds.

This handicap race is the "South's oldest continuous athletic event." It is run each year to commemorate the run made by Captain Jean Baptiste Placuche and his courageous band of Creoles from the Old Spanish Fort to the Cabildo. They joined forces under General Andrew Jackson and took part in the Battle of New Orleans January 8, 1815.

The honor in this is not winning the race but in completing the race. The present record is held by Sal Escoto in 32:39 established in 1951.

LEETOWN NEWS

By: Doc Thigpen

The four classrooms in Leetown school have been made attractive with a new coat of paint. Plans are being made for further improvements in the near future.

Miss Yvonne Lee of Logtown and Miss Susie Rea Lee of New Orleans were home for the weekend.

A large crowd of basketball fans had a real treat Friday night when the Leetown girls and boys clashed with the Logtown teams in the Gulfview gym.

Both victories went to Leetown; the girls' score was 16 to 8. The boys' game was hard fought from beginning to end; a number of times, it looked as though the small Leetown boys were going to come out on the short end of the score, but they fought their way through to a 22 to 19 victory.

The Leetown teams defeated the Carriere squads in the Y. M. C. A. The scores were 12 to 9 for the girls and 17 to 5 for the boys.

Several members of this community attended the invitational tournament in the Industrial gym.

Featuring improvements which produce unprecedented roadability and riding qualities, the beautifully redesigned 1951 line of Plymouth cars have numerous mechanical improvements and have retained their traditional roominess.

Engineers say the new "Safety-flow ride" takes the bounce and wallop out of bumps. A new application of hydraulic flow control in the shock absorbers provides a more gradual change of resistance during spring deflections and thus a softer ride when driving on average roads. It also exerts extra resistance on rough roads to a degree where driver and passengers are almost completely freed of the discomfort of being jolted around.

Palmer To Run For Public Service

Merle F. Palmer of Pascagoula, Jackson County Prosecuting Attorney and former Vice-President of the Mississippi Bar Association, today formally announced his candidacy for the office of Public Service Commissioner for the Southern District of Mississippi.

In a formal statement the 32 year old attorney declared that he would wage an extensive campaign "to bring this office back to the people where it rightfully belongs."

MERLE F. PALMER

"As a representative of the people, I shall be fair and impartial and use good judgment and common sense in regulating the affairs and business of the railroad companies, the bus and freight companies, the telephone and public utilities according to the powers vested in the Public Service Commission by the statutes of the State of Mississippi. I shall always be a servant of the people."

As a former employee of the United States Senate, Merle Palmer served four years as a member of the "Little Congress" in Washington. He was a delegate to the State Democratic Convention in 1948 and is past president of the Mississippi Young Democrats. He is the recipient of a Cornell Award for public speaking, and is a member of the Kiwanis Club, The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. He is a member of the Baptist Church.

He is widely known as a practicing attorney and is now serving his first term as Prosecuting Attorney of Jackson County.

Mr. Palmer stated that he would open campaign offices later on in the year at Laurel, Gulfport, Hattiesburg and Brookhaven.

—I. A. Picard, New Orleans, spent the past weekend here at his North Beach home.

—Miss Mary Wingerter has gone to Algiers, Louisiana, to care for a friend who is ill.

You May Never Need It, But...

The Red Cross is setting up blood banks around the country. They work like real banks, too. You give them a pint of blood. Then if you—or your family—need a transfusion during the year, you just "draw against your account."

For example, when Blackie Hicks, over at Balesville, donated blood they told him he had a very rare type. "Well," he said, "may do someone some good anyhow."

And it did! He had an accident two weeks later, and needed a transfusion—and the only blood of his type around here was the one he donated himself! Kept him going 'til they could fly some more in from the State Capital.

From where I sit, looking ahead a little pays big dividends. Reminds you of the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry. Retailers volunteer to DONATE time and effort so that all places selling beer will be clean and orderly. That way they can "BANK" on things going right.

Logging It On TV

By JAY METZ

Now that we are well into the third week of January we are getting a steady run of Christmas and New Years Eve shows done on the "big time." Maybe they were delivered here by dog cart. The whole situation gets slightly confusing at times. We view local live shows and know that we are in the middle of January 1951, but that evening we view network kinescopes wishing us a Merry Christmas or a Happy New Year. And the next night we go through the same thing, but with a different group of programs. Based on past experiences January will be almost over when we hear the last of it.

Here's hoping that 1951 will bring us:

- (1) Less time lag on network programs
- (2) Another TV station
- (3) Completion and utilization of the coaxial cable
- (4) Less juvenile fare after six p.m.

Sunday afternoon we suffered through a thirty minute commercial while Admiral advertised their TV sets, radios, ranges, refrigerators, and such. Joyce Smith, among other locals, assisted the Admiral home office man in selling the Admiral products to the viewing audience. She was most enthusiastic about the TV set, as I recall, agreeing that it was the very finest. But on Monday on her Floral Trails program she was praising the wonder and virtues of Philco sets. I wonder whose side she is on.

Last Saturday afternoon we were fortunate in seeing Horace Heidt with his Youth Opportunity Program. We are steady listeners of his Sunday night radio program, and always wanted to see what that program looked like. The show itself was four to six months old for it featured baritone Jesse Owens as the current champion. I don't recall what was usually shown at that time previous to this past Saturday, but I'm glad that our outlet pulled Heidt out of the moth balls.

A program I enjoy is the Saturday evening fights from Long Island, with Dennis James. Generally, one sees some pretty good action. Falstaff Beer sponsors this program, and during the course of the hour-long program, manages to get in from twenty to thirty plugs for its beer. Next Saturday, I think I shall count the actual number of times they throw in a commercial. There is one between each round and between each fight. Since this program is a cut-and-paste job, so to speak, the commercials between rounds need not be limited to the standard one-minute interval between rounds. Falstaff gets its money's worth. Its got something.

On the Youngstown Kitchen Program last Wednesday, the smiling em-gee of this program made a most amazing statement while trying to sell the electric dishwasher. He said that most people - or did he say housewives? - spend an average of one hour in the kitchen washing and drying dishes after each meal, or three hours a day, of 21 hours per week. I challenge that statement.

Breakfast and lunch dishes - for four or five of us - never have taken an hour to clear out of the way. And I'd say that also goes for dinner dishes and utensils. And I'd say we were the so-called "average" sized family. Personally, I think it would be a sad state of affairs when a housewife, aided by the proper well-trained husband or youngster, wasted three hours a day doing the dishes. That one hour per average is a sign of gross inefficiency in the kitchen, and very few housewives these days operate that way.

I'll grant that, on occasions, when friends are invited and the

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald V. Price, Jr., announce the birth of a son Thursday, January 18, at the Kings Daughters hospital.

This is their second child; they have a daughter, little Charlotte Anne. Mrs. Price is the former Emelda Chadwick of Waveland.

Joan Gray, pretty seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gray, Jr., Meridian, happily leaves home for school after missing a year because of polio. She was stricken with polio the day before school opened in September, 1949.

Now Joan is not only back in school, she has been appointed by Dr. Felix J. Underwood to serve as State Chairman of the Children's Division of the 1951 March of Dimes. Contributions to the March of Dimes in former years helped Joan to get well.

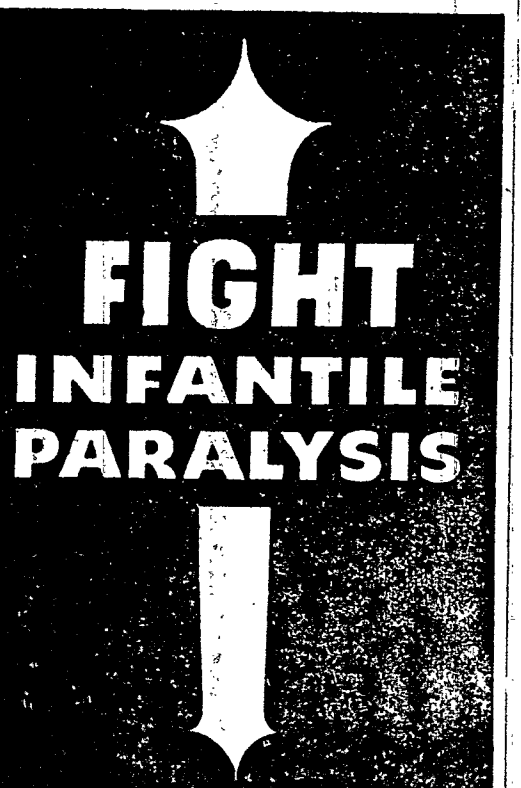

Mrs. Carmelita Saucier returned from New Orleans this week. She visited her sister, Mrs. Jennie Dussor who recently underwent a major operation at Mercy hospital.

Captain and Mrs. Shiba and Mrs. Lilly Dunnigan of New Orleans spent the weekend with Mrs. Carmelita Saucier.

Strong Agriculture Backs Up Defense

That we have a strong agriculture, ready to back up other defense production, is no accident, said Alvin V. McCromack, Director, PMA's Agricultural Conservation Programs Branch, in a speech at the Farm Implement Dealers' Association convention held in Minneapolis, January 9. "Our agriculture is strong and productive because we have taken an interest in conserving our soil and water resources and in protecting our farmers from ruinous prices when crops have been abundant."

BASIC DEFENSE MATERIALS

He went on to say that defense production is more than just "beating plows into swords and pouring hooks into spears." Food and fiber are basic defense materials and at no time is there greater need for a strong and productive agriculture.

Calling attention to the Agricultural Conservation Program as one of the developments which has been the foundation of much of agriculture's strength, he said:

"To me the Agriculture Conservation Program is typically American. It symbolizes the way we have in this country of working things out together. It's the way we started out to be a Nation. It's the way we developed a Constitution and set up a government. It's the way we obtained our public school system. We see the need for action. We agree, after discussion and debate, that something has to be done. We work out what has to be done; then we do it."

CONSERVATION PROGRAM

He pointed out that floods and dust bowls shocked us into the realization that something had to be done to conserve our soil and water resources. But, the land on which the conservation was needed belonged to individuals.

To meet this problem, the Agricultural Conservation Program was developed with provision for sharing the cost of conservation with the individual farmer. This provision greatly increased the effectiveness of investments made in experimentation and education.

"Conservation farming," he concluded, "is needed now to keep our farm defense plants strong and productive. At this time, when no one knows how long we are going to be required to maintain our military strength at a high level, we cannot afford the risk of allowing our farm production plants to go to pieces."

Henry Hilton Smith, student of Mississippi State College, has enlisted in the Army Air Force and has gone to San Antonio, Texas, for training. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Smith and is a graduate of Bay High.

State College, Miss.—Planted five years ago, these pines failed to grow properly because the roots were forced into small or shallow holes, and could not develop enough to compete with other trees. Properly planted seedlings of the same age are four to six inches in diameter, being marketable pulpwood in another three to five years and even more valuable pole size in another 10 years. The tap root at left grew into a "U" instead of down, while the root pointed to was crammed into the hole so that it became a mass which could not spread out in the normal position. Improper planting is the chief cause of pine seedlings not surviving during normal years, according to Ralph Robertson, assistant forester, Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service.

State College, Miss. — "Pine trees cannot be planted like sweetpotatoes," declared Ralph Robertson, assistant forester, Agricultural Extension Service.

With the tree planting season here, remember that the roots must be in a straight natural position in the soil if the seedlings are to develop an extensive enough root system for normal growth, the forester urged.

Never push pine seedlings into the ground with a notched stick, as is often done with sweetpotato or cabbage plants. This will force the tap root, which should grow straight down, into a "U" and will cause the feeder roots to bunch in an unnatural way.

The slit or hole made in the ground for planting must be large enough for the roots to hang in the normal position before soil is pushed around them. Pack soil firmly around the roots, leaving no air pockets.

Failure of pine seedlings to survive during normal years is due mainly to roots being forced into an improper or cramped position, according to observations during several years of checking pine seedling survival. This often causes seedlings to die as long as five years after planting, when normal seedlings of the same age are four to six inches in diameter.

Care of seedlings until they are planted is also important, Mr. Robertson pointed out.

Seedlings will be received from the state nursery in bundles, and should be left that way if they can be planted within two or three days. Moist the roots with water. Store in the shade, but on a southern exposure or place where the seedlings will not freeze.

Heel in seedlings that are to be stored for four or more days.

When planting, keep roots of seedlings in a bucket of soapy mud or wet moss. Remove from the bucket only one seedling at a time, and plant in without delay.

The Bay St. Louis Independent boys' basketball team lost both games played last week. Friday night they bowed to the Motor Vehicle Club of Keesler Field, by a score of 69 to 32; and Saturday night Newman-Cobb of Gulfport won the game, 51 to 17.

CORN MEET

LONGER SHIPPING SEASON

He added that his company was interested in obtaining earlier-produced corn to enable them to realize a longer shipping season than they have from the later-producing Hattiesburg area alone. His concern, according to Smith, would operate from some nearby shipping shed, if sufficient organized acreage of early corn was definitely planted.

This would consist of all necessary equipment, personnel and sales force needed to efficiently process and market the produce.

LOW IN CASH OUTLAY

Sweet Corn will meet the needs of Mississippi farmers for a crop low in cash outlay and labor demand, yet, it is still able to yield a fair return under normal market conditions.

Any farmer interested in developing a commercial market for Sweet Corn in South Mississippi, and who desires more information on the production requirements and proposed marketing plans, is encouraged to contact

With the 27th Fighter-Escort Group in Japan, Jan. 5—Sergeant Buford E. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Givens V. Parker, 500 Hancock street, Bay St. Louis, has recently arrived in Korea and is serving with the combat echelon of the 27th Fighter-Escort Wing.

Pilots of Sergeant Parker's unit, equipped with the hard-hitting Republic F-84E Thunderjet fighters, are flying daily combat missions against the Communist aggressors in North Korea. The machine gun fire, bombs, rockets and fire bombs (Anapalm) directed at the enemy on these missions have resulted in countless destroyed enemy troops, defenses, and industrial resources.

The latest-type heavily-armed jet fighter craft were introduced into the United States conflict in Korea with the recent arrival of the 27th Fighter-Escort group. The 27th, a part of the Strategic Air Command's 8th Air Force, is now on indefinite temporary duty with the Far East Air Force from Pegstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Texas.

Entering the service in 1944 Parker has previously served a one year's tour of duty in the Pacific area.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

Health Officer Approves Addition Of Fluoride To Water Supply In State

By MISS MADGE ALLEED

The State Board of Health has given its approval to the adding of fluoride to public water supplies to aid in preventing tooth decay.

For the plan to go into effect in a town it must first have the approval of local medical and dental societies and the local health officer. The town officials must authorize the addition of fluoride to the water supply and the division of Sanitary Engineering of the State Board of Health must approve equipment for addition of fluoride. The practice cannot go into effect in a town until the State Board of Health approves it in writing.

Studies show that the number of cavities in the teeth of young children is reduced where their water supply contains fluoride. As the length of the program increases, older children show less tooth decay.

State Board of Health officials say no statement can be made at this time regarding the effect on the teeth of adults. They stress that the adding of fluoride to water supplies should be a longer range program to cover 10 years for complete conclusions. Fluoride in the water supply reduces tooth decay best among those who have used the water from infancy.

A fluoride cannot be added safely to water by the home owner. Mottled teeth may result if too much is added. The chemical is highly poisonous when taken in large doses.

SPRING SEWING

As you home sewers think of making your spring wardrobe, your first problem is going to be that of selecting materials. You are going to find cotton and wool fabrics less plentiful than usual because of short ages of both. This makes both these materials more expensive.

The greatly increased prices of both wool and cotton have caused manufacturers to shift to blends of wool and rayon, or wool and cotton, or all rayon fabrics.

After you have looked over available materials and as you make your selection, think of making and caring for the garments. "Fads" don't belong in a well-planned wardrobe. Fabric "fads" include louder stencil prints, knit jersey, mesh fabrics and novelty fabric constructions.

To identify them examine both the right and wrong side of the fabric. You will find these kinds of designs are individual markings on one or the right side. Examine the design. Lacquer designs have a glossy, paint-like surface. They appear to be absorbed into the surface of the fabric rather than applied to the surface. The design will bend without cracking. Garments made of fabric with lacquer stencil prints cannot be dry cleaned and finished satisfactorily.

So-called permanently pleated fabrics being sold. This so called permanently pleated fabric is made of small, rolled, irregular pleats used on fabrics of wool and rayon blends, spun rayons, "butcher" linen, wool jersey and cellulose acetate rayon and nylon combinations.

You will run into trouble when these fabrics are water spotted, at home or at the dry cleaners. There are many types of food stains that can be removed only by using moisture; therefore, any attempt by you or your dry cleaner to remove the stains will remove the pleats. Pleats cannot be reset satisfactorily in a dry cleaning plant. It is necessary to send the garment to a commercial pressing firm for pressing. Such fabrics cannot be classed as serviceable.

Select your fabric carefully. Weight, color and finish of material depends on the use you plan for the finished garments. Read the fiber content tags. Check on preshrinkage. Most wool fabric sold for home sewing is preshrunk and ready for the needle. If not, be sure to preshrink. Look for the sinforized label on cotton.

Value Your Health More Than Riches

Some folks think that fine clothes and fine big houses are the most important things in life, but these things really don't mean too much if a person doesn't feel well enough to enjoy them. Most folks don't realize this, but Mrs. L. C. Braswell, of Route 2, Stone Mountain, Georgia, realizes it very well. Mrs. Braswell takes HADACOL, and by so doing she has found the answer to her long-standing problem of chronic constipation. She writes: "I have been sick for some time with stomach disturbances. I began taking HADACOL and I have been taking it about two weeks. I am so much better and much stronger. I will continue to take HADACOL. It sure has helped me. I tell my friends about HADACOL. I can't praise HADACOL too much. I am 59 years old."

Here is Mrs. Braswell's own statement: "I have been sick for some time with stomach disturbances. I began taking HADACOL and I have been taking it about two weeks. I am so much better and much stronger. I will continue to take HADACOL. It sure has helped me. I tell my friends about HADACOL. I can't praise HADACOL too much. I am 59 years old."

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Now Is Time To Work In Orchards

By HOWARD SIMMONS

ORCHARD CARE
This month is the best time to prune fruit trees and grape vines, although the job may be done any time during the dormant season.

Peaches and plums will be stronger, more vigorous and yield better if trained to the modified leader instead of the open center system. This preferred system consists of spacing three to five scaffold limbs from six to eight inches apart on the trunk, lowest limb being about 18 inches above the ground.

Pears are trained in a similar manner, but are allowed to develop a more natural shape with six to eight scaffold limbs forming the framework of the tree.

Bearing trees which have been trained to a modified leader system should have a light annual pruning. Remove any dead, diseased or broken branches. Dead branches should be removed by cutting just above the nearest healthy branch.

Spray all fruit trees with one part oil emulsion to 20 parts water to control scale.

FEEDING LAYERS
For high egg production, layers should consume two pounds of mash a day for each dozen eggs laid. To use this fact as a feeding guide, simply multiply by two the number of dozens of eggs collected daily to find how many pounds of mash should be consumed daily.

Keep mash before the birds all the time. Then once a day, preferably in the evening, give them all the grain they will clean up in 30 minutes.

A definite feeding program is always important, but especially during the winter months.

When culling dairy cows, consider past feeding and development—Texas Extension Dairyman R. E. Budleson advises that the management and feeding that a cow received as a calf and as a heifer should be considered when culling young cows. Don't cull a cow until she has had an opportunity to produce to the best of her ability.

Good feeds are necessary for good development. After dairy heifers are 4 months old, they should receive about 5 pounds of a well-balanced concentrate mixture in addition to all the good quality hay they will eat.

A good home mixed growing mixture is: 5 pounds of coarsely-ground corn or sorghum grain chops; 25 pounds of coarsely-ground oats; 10 pounds of cottonseed meal; and 1 pound, each of calcium supplement, bone meal and salt.

World Situation Leaves Vacancies In Government Job

The expanding National Defense Program has created a serious shortage of stenographers and typists in Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., according to a statement issued today by A. J. Leach, Regional Director, Tenth U. S. Civil Service Regional Office in New Orleans. The shortage is most acute in offices of the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force, Mr. Leach said, and the Civil Service Commission is attempting to alleviate it by intensifying its recruiting efforts throughout the country.

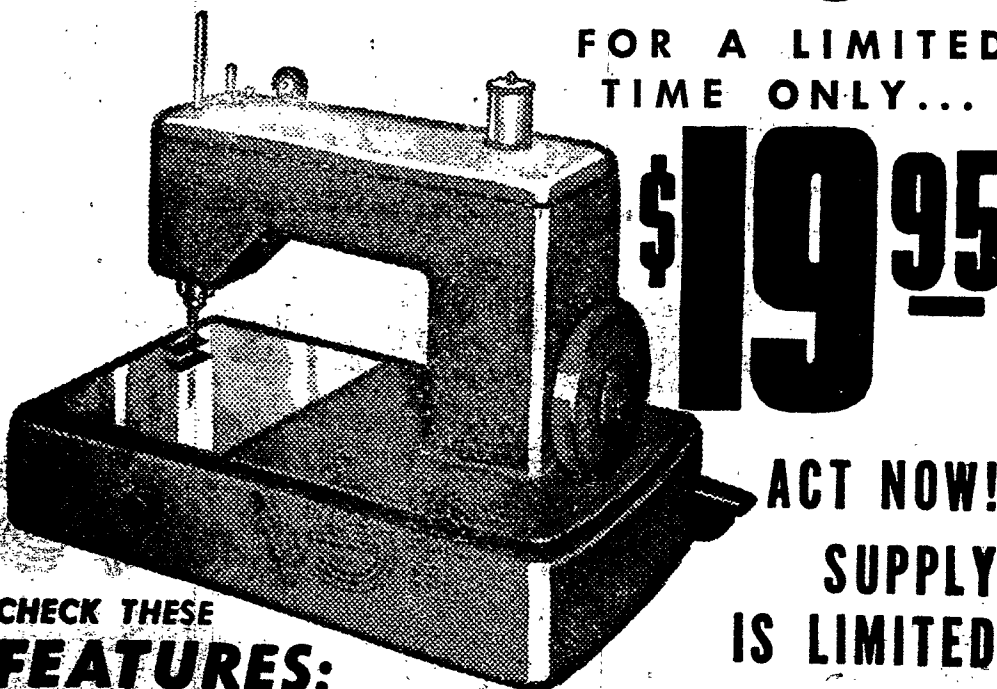

Starting salaries for stenographers are $2450 to $2875 a year; for typists, $2450 and $2650. Satisfactory employees get yearly pay increases until the highest salary for the grade of the position is reached. Government employees are given 26 days of vacation leave each year and sick leave credit at the rate of 15 days a year. Promotion opportunities are good for employees who show ability to assume the responsibilities of higher level jobs.

In order to qualify for appointment to these positions, applicants must pass a Civil Service examination but no previous experience is required. Age limits are 18 to 62. Qualified persons who want to make their services available during the present emergency are urged to secure additional information and application forms from the local civil service secretary at any first or second-class post office or from the Tenth U. S. Civil Service Regional Office Federal Office Building 10 South Street New Orleans Louisiana. Applications should be forwarded to the U. S. Civil Service Commission Washington, 25, D. C.
